

All Stars and Olympic Athletes Headline the Roxbury Community College Foundation's Sixth Annual Golf Outing
July 31, 2009

Boston, MA - Boston Celtics legend Dana Barros, former Olympic Track Team Coach Russ Rogers, Track Gold Medalist Harvey Glance, and Olympian Ben Fields will headline the Roxbury Community College (RCC) Foundation and Reggie Lewis Track and Athletic Center's Sixth Annual Golf Outing on July 31, 2009, at Franklin Park Golf Course. The Honorary Co-Chairs of the Outing are Massachusetts State Auditor Joe DeNucci and RCC Trustee John Jenkins.

The goal of the event is to raise funds to support community outreach programs at the Reggie Lewis Center and provide necessary funds to deserving students in the Greater Boston Community. In addition to a great day of golf, 150 participants will test their skills with hole-in-one, longest drive, and closest-to-the-pin contests. Following the competition, a luncheon, catered by Kowloon of Saugus, MA, will be held for over 200 participants, local business leaders, elected officials, and supporters of the programs.

State Auditor DeNucci is glad to be partnering with the Golf Organizing Committee for the second straight year. "It is with great pleasure that I once again take part in this terrific event," said DeNucci. "The Roxbury Community College Foundation and the Reggie Lewis Center provide our inner-city youth with both educational and athletic opportunities that were once unattainable. This worthwhile event raises the necessary funds, especially in these tough fiscal times, to benefit programs that help so many realize their dreams."

Additional participants in this year's Outing include NESN's "Coach" Willie Maye, President of the Urban Strategy America Fund Kirk Sykes, Stanley and Bobby Wong of Kowloon, Owens Companies' President and CEO Ed Owens, Monster's Chief Diversity Officer Steve Pemberton, Roxbury Community College President Dr. Terrence Gomes, former Miami Dolphin and current Boston area attorney Eddie Jenkins, and Rom Homer of Conway, Homer & Chin-Caplan Law Offices.

About the Roxbury Community College Foundation: Originating in 1983, The Roxbury Community College Foundation is an independent organization, fiscally separate from the College, organized and operated exclusively for the benefit of Roxbury Community College and the furtherance of the education of its students. The Board of Trustees of the College certified the Foundation as the official foundation and sole fundraising agent for the college.

About the Reggie Lewis Track & Athletic Center: Now in its 14th year, the Reggie Lewis Track & Athletic Center, named after the local humanitarian and basketball hero, is home to a 70,000 square foot state of the art track - which hosts events such as the Nike High School Nationals, the USA Track & Field Championships, and the Boston Indoor Games. The Center is also involved in the community in numerous ways, hosting charity events and outreach programs throughout the year.
